Lucky 7

Like all Lucky Chicks, we love to celebrate. But today is not just like any other Lucky day. Why? We just turned seven! And like all seven year-olds, we have so much to say.

Lucky Chick found me seven years ago at a time when I didn't know which direction my life would take. Other than knowing that I wanted to create something empowering for women, I was stuck. I had moved into a new apartment in New York—apartment LC. My friends started calling me "Lucky Chick," after both my apartment and the person they could see me becoming. One day, as I was sketching, I drew Lucky Chick—arms outstretched in a diva pose. Lucky Chick was full of confidence, radiating energy and inner peace. She embodied what I wanted to be. Drawing her helped me discover a newfound sense of purpose and direction. Soon I was creating Lucky Chick bath and beauty products, creating essentials for the Lucky Chick lifestyle.

Gone are the days of apartment LC. Lucky Chick is now a team made up of lots of Lucky Chicks and we are all thrilled with the glowing response we get from our fans about our signature floral blends and products.

From our exotic Mandarin White Orchid Sugar Body Scrub and Mimosa Jasmine & Violet Body Butter to our refreshing Spearmint Foot Cream and Peppermint Foot Scrub, our products are perfectly crafted from the most luxurious ingredients. Top an at-home spa experience off with our super lightweight and absorbent micro fiber hair turban and realize (gasp!) as we have, that looking chic and smelling delicious is now possible, even when you're naked.

If you already know Lucky Chick, you may have noticed our new look (of course you did, you just were waiting to say something.) A girl needs an update from time to time and even the luckiest of chicks treasures her freedom to change. Watch for the launch of our new web site this spring, too—more legally addictive products and good vibes are on the way.

Life is sometimes complicated and it isn't always easy to stay upbeat and positive, this we know. But a Lucky Chick always lands on her feet. Why? She's lived enough to know that from any challenge comes unexpected opportunity, and she doesn't want to miss a thing. Lucky Chick has been my inspiration and I'm hoping that she can be yours as well.

A Lucky Chick dreams it, then she does it.

In Love & Luck,
